DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Species B2, claims 18-21 in Paper No. 10 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that searching the Species B1 claims 15-17, would not place a serious burden on the examiner because it is asserted that the field of search and examination substantially overlap for each species. However, this is not found persuasive because the examiner disagrees with this assertion and states that while there may be some overlap between the search areas required for both species, the search is then divergent. The search for species B1 would additionally involve searching the step of acquiring the purchase card from a purchase card provider, providing the purchasing card to the retailer to purchase goods or services, the purchase card provider being distinct from the retailer. Species B2 involves a purchasing intermediary that initially supplies the purchasing card to the retailer; the card is then purchased from the retailer by a user, and used to purchase goods from a retailer distinct from the purchasing intermediary. Thus it can be clearly seen that the species B1 and B2 are quite different and would require distinct and unduly burdensome and divergent search strategies on the part of the examiner. The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Drawings

2. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 18-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wisdom et al. (6,145,741).

Wisdom et al. disclose a prepaid universal purchasing card for purchasing petroleum or non-petroleum related products such as sundries from a retail establishment such a filling station (see abstract). Wisdom et al. do not specifically disclose that the universal pre-paid card is initially purchased by a purchasing intermediary and then supplied to the retail establishment for resale to the end user of the card. However, the insertion of a purchasing intermediary or a "middle man" in a supply chain is notoriously well known in the art to those possessing even the most basic knowledge thereof, such purchasing intermediaries enhancing the distribution of the card. Thus it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made that a purchasing intermediary could be readily inserted in the distribution pathway of the Wisdom card, so as to aid the distribution thereof and to enhance it's widespread availability.

Regarding claim 20 and 21, Wisdom et al. discloses that the cards possess one or more authenticating and security codes recorded in each card, such codes being read by well known conventional card reading apparatus at each point of sale where the cards are accepted (see block 14 in figure 1, and column 3, lines 34-39).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection and the new claims 18-21.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. FRANCE: CARTE BLEUE'S NEW PRODUCTS, "Le Groupement Carte Bleue renforce sa gamme de produits", Les Echos (LE) 4/25/1996, p.21 discloses a prepaid, anonymous purchasing card that was known in 1996.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

Art Unit: 2164

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

8. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
